Why do I need to feed my brain?

Many health-conscious consumers are aware that our bodies need vitamins and minerals to supplement our daily diet. Yet most have never thought about taking supplements for the brain.

With "Baby Boomers" numbering over 78 million, one Boomer turns 65 every ten seconds. Accompanying this is a rise in age-related diseases, including Alzheimer's and other impairment conditions – beginning as early as age 45, according to recent clinical studies. Fortunately, cutting-edge research is revealing there are nutritional supplements that can prevent such impairments. That's why we developed RevitalMind™.

Food for thought

RevitalMind™ is an extraordinary brain support formula that optimizes focus, concentration, memory and mental performance. Research has shown direct benefits from the key nutrients found in this brand new formulation. Through a proprietary blend, these carefully selected ingredients are synergistically combined with other vitamins and minerals that energize and support the brain's ability to operate at an optimal state.

With RevitalMind™, you can "feed your mind" the nutrients it craves. Long-term, these nutrients can be both preventative and restorative for optimal brain functioning. They also fight against age-related mental decline.

Premium brain support formula

With not just one but several key components that support and optimize brain function, RevitalMind™ is the product of leading-edge science. This one-of-a-kind formula contains clinically tested nutrients which help boost neurotransmitter activity that is responsible for increased cognitive function.

RevitalMind™ has several ingredients that play a significant role in brain support. They include GPC, Acetyl-L-Carnitine (ALCAR), DMAE and Phosphatidylserine (PS). In fact, research on these nutrients has shown a direct connection to improving the ability to think, reason, recall and concentrate. PS is one of the only nutritional supplements in history to receive a qualified health claim from the FDA. Another botanical ingredient in this formula, Vinpocetine, has been shown to support brain metabolism by increasing the cerebral synthesis of ATP, the universal "currency" of energy.

Vitamins B6 and B12 are noted for producing energy and increasing metabolism through converting carbohydrates, proteins and fat into energy. They are both important in the normal functioning of the brain and nervous system. B6 is particularly critical for brain function since concentrations in the brain can be 100 times higher than levels in the blood. (Linus Pauling Institute)

With RevitalMind™, you harness the power of today's cutting edge research on natural nutrients that make a noticeable and positive change in mental performance and cognitive function.
